Husband to Meet Bills.

(By Associated Fress.)
NEW YORK, December 5.—Dr. Lerey 5. Chadwick, the husband of Mrs. Chauwick, has cabled a lawyer in New York, telling him to call upon him for any settlement that may be needed for the pressing claims against his wife.

The name of the lawyer is as yet a secret, but the authority for the state secret, but the authority for the statement that he has appeared upon the scene is Lawyer George Ryall, of local counsel for Herbert D. Newton, of Brook-line, Mass. Mr. Ryall said he was confident Newton's claims would be settled in a few days. Mr. Ryall had a long interview with Mrs. Chadwick to-day.

Asthma Can Be Cured

The statement of Mr. J. E. Homan, 29 East Adams Street, Chleago, proves that the worst cases of Asthna in the world are not only relieved, but are readily cured by Dr. Schiffmann's Asthma Cure He says: "Asthma kept me in terrible misery for ten years until I used your Asthma Cure. "Mrs. Chadwick has cause for worry," said the lawyer, "but it is not about money matters. She has no need to worry on that score, and I can only say that I would like to be able to buy up her debis. I'd be a rich man. The newspapers will have coportunity to be on the defensive," he added, for Mrs. Chadwick's intention is to bring libel suits against every paper which has printed stories about her."

Andrew Carongle's secretary gave out
the following statement to-day:

"Mr. Carnegie wants me to say that he does not want to be bothered any more about this Chadwick woman. He is quite angry over this persistent use of his name and wishes it to cease at once.

Cons. for all he avers know Mrs. Chadname and wishes it to cease at once. Once for all he never knew Mrs. Chadwick or any other such woman, and he never signed any such paper as the reports credit him with. That is all."

The deputy sheriff who served the attachment papers on Mrs. Chadwick at the Holland House on Saturday, was at the hotel again to-day and asked for an inventory of Mrs. Chadwick's effects. He was referred to the hotel's lawyers.

Will She be Arrested? Mrs. Chadwick is at the Holland House to-night. At the hotel are at least three to-night. At the hotel are at least three of the United States secret service, and they have been particularly alert for the past twenty-four hours. sentative Burion, of Ohlo, who is chairman of the Committee on Alvers and Harbors, contrary to expectations, had his desk decorated with a modest bunch of roses. He is the most sought after man on the Republican side, because of his position. That he received so few flowers may be due to a grave oversight on the part of members who are trying to get appropriations for rivers and harbors in their districts.

Do What President Wants.

Do What President Wants.

All the Virginia members appeared to have flowers on their desks. Every member of the delegation was in his sent, smilling from behind filossoms and looking as though nothing had happened since the end of the last session. For were not all re-elected and by big majorities?.

But it cannot be said that Democrats have good cause to rejoice at the outlook for them this session, and, of course, the prospect for the next Congress is even poorer. It is too carry to forecast the legislation for this session. It is not possible thus early in the game to understand the temper of Do What President Wants. Printip Carpenter, chief counsel in New York for Mrs. Chadwick, was seen at the Waldorf-Astoria at midnight by a representative of the Associated Press. When asked concerning the probability of the arrest of his client, he declined to talk, but said:

MRS. DUCHANAN'S SOLO

CHANGES WOMAN'S LIFE

"Mrs. Chadwick is absolutely innocent of any intent of wrong. She has done nothing to talk for publication regarding party policy. The impression is created that the word for all important legislation must come from the White House. In order to forecast what the Congress in must do it is only necessary to leafyn what the White House wants done. This has nover been made so plain as within the past three or four days, during which the past three or four days, during wh his party in Congress is opposed, but a should he order the Congress to assemble in extraordinary session after the fourth of Mirch, there would not be found a corporal's guard of Republican members who would be loud in expressing their opinions on the subject.

It has been made pretty clear that on one subject there will be decided differences in Republican ranks should legislation be undertaken. That is the reduction of Southern representation. The House of Representatives might pass legislation of this kind offensive to the South, but it has geen discovered that there are Republican senators who are opposed to any action being taken by Congress on the subject. It is helieved these will make their opposition felt when an effort is made to get sych a bill through the Senate, A Republican senator said to-day that he hoped Congress would not undertake any legislation of that kind, and that he would do all in his power to provent it.

No Extra Session.

No Extra Session.

There is no new talk concerning the extra session. Hope of the revisionists that there would be such a session, has about vanished. The spirit of the President, is willing, but the fiesh is too weak to oppose all the counsel of the moruls of the party. The chances of there being an extra session are very slim.

There will be a session of minety days—ninety days of discussion of money bills, ninety days of log-relling, of "you help me and I'll help you," get all the money out of the treasury possible, though, of course, it will not be expressed that way, and then adjournment. The President knows and says, the tariff ought to be revised in the interest of the consumers. The Republican members of Congress know it just as well. But both the President and the Republican majority in Congress know that it would not be good gent and the Republican majority in Congress know that it would not be good politics to reduce tariff duties, or even to discuss the subject in open session, where all the country may hear. So there will be no reduction, and there will be no discussion of the subject, save by the Democrats.

AGAINST TARIFF REVISION

Poll Shows That Republicans

Are in Favor of "Standing Pat."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dee, 5.—In favor of tariff revision, 22; opposed to tariff revision, 77. Verk Herald has made an expensive in the Fifty-eighth Congress, with a view to ascertaining the party sentiment on the revision of the tariff. The result shows clearly that there will be no general revision of the tariff by the Republican party during the life of the 4resent Congress, and probably not by the Fifty-ninth Congress.

The sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of "standing pat." Members of the Senate, who do not owe their election directly, to the people, are almost unanimously opposed to altering any of the schedules. Most of them refuse to differentiate between a revision of the tariff and a modification of schedules. They will simply have no change whatever.

They will simply have no change whatever.

Members of the House of Representatives are also opposed to changing the the sentiment is not quite so defiant as in the Senate. Many representatives admit that there is some necessity for medification of some schedules but they are not willing to go on record as favoring an extra session. Most of them follow the lead of Speaker Cannon, who prefers to wait and expresses satisfaction with conditions now prevailing.

There is some sentiment in favor of a permanent tariff commission which would be empower to make changes in schedules. The argument in favor-of-thisis that it would take the tarif out of the range of pollitical discussion. But no concrete proposition is made about this,
and it is not beyond the speculative stage.

of Caesar Young, a wealthy bookmaker in a cab on West Broadway six months ago, commenced to-day in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, and when adjournment was taken for the day three juriers had been chosen.

Miss Patterson, who has been ill with tonsilitis for several days, appeared in excellent spirits. Her manner was very vivacious and the nervousness noticed during the progress of the first trial here entirely disappeared. She was scated by her aged father. After nine talesmen had been examined and refused, Justice Davis, who will preside at the trial intervened and assumed the role of examiner. Miss Patterson carefully considered the capabilities of each inlessman and frequently suggested questions for her counsel to propound. She expressed a desire that no old men be accepted. The men accepted were Thomas II. Harmer, receiving teller of a bank, who will be foreman; William J. Lee, a manufacturer, and Thoms Farrell, a merchant. Over one lundred men were examined during the day. The work-of selecting a jury will go on tomorrow.
